Chairman's Update

I hope that you are able to enjoy the final month of the season, and, like me, are greatly looking forward to the resumption of face-to-face Society meetings starting with the visit of Dennis Amiss on Wednesday October 6th.

Neither The Victory Club nor the Society will make the wearing of masks mandatory but members are welcome to do so if they wish. We ask that members respect the choices of others in this matter.

A number of you have re-joined/renewed your membership recently - we thank you and also those of you kind enough to make donations to the Society. We still have vacancies for membership so if you have any friends who might be interested do try to persuade them to come along and try us.

Thanks are due to Rob Wheatman who has acted as photographer for the Society for many years and written up the Journal recording all of our meetings. Rob is standing down, so we have a vacancy for a member to volunteer to fill this role. If you would like more details of what's involved, please talk to Paddy Murphy.

Finally, a reminder that you can watch Gloucestershire's remaining games on the Live Stream via the club website at no cost (although you do need to give your e-mail details) and that Pitch Publishing have resumed their series of fortnightly Friday talks - more details are available on their website.

Best Wishes
Chris Coleman
